Alexandria, Va. A CARD.—The greater portion of our customers are probably aware that on the first of september last we commenced selling goods exclusively for eash, offering at the time, as an inducement for our very prompt credit customers to pay cash, that we would make a deduction of five per cent. on all purchases amounting to $10 and upwards, believing, at the time, that the discount offered would have been a sufficient inducement; but we find the move to have been a very unpopu-lar one with many of our most valuable customers, they considering it a very great convenience to have an account where they could send for or purchase what they wished; and as we do not feel that we can afford to loose the patronage of such as have always sustained us heretofore, besides de-priving ourselves of the pleasure of doing business with them, we have determined to again open our books to such as have always paid us when their bills were presented, and hope all such will appre ciate this public announcement, as we would not make it, only that we publicly declined to continue lishing one thing and doing another, we have thought it due our prompt customers, in making the change, to publish this statement. We shall, however, continue to allow the discount on all purchases of $10 and upwards if paid for at the time of purchase, and would respectfully solicit all who prefer to buy for cash, to examine our stock, which is now very large, and having pur chased most of our goods this season at the New York and Philadelphia auction sales, we know that we have one of the largest and cheapest stocks of GOODS in the District.

Washington, oct 20-dlm NEW CLOAKS.—As many of our customers have been waiting the arrival of our NEW CLOAKS, we would respectfully inform them that we have to day opened about one hundred of the best style of plain and ribbed Black Beavers, varying from $10 to $40, many of them of our own designs, and different from any other styles in the market. Castomers who prefer to buy for each will be allowed a discount of five per cent, on all purchases amounting to $10 and opwards, and we respectfully solicit the inspection of all in want of we believe we can offer great inducement; both in one price, marked in plain figures.

JAPANESE PRIESTS .- A good-humored bonze, or priest, now approached, and invited me to tcha and tabae. He led me by a private way to the priests' apartments, which formed one side of the court-yard, projecting from the temple, and at right angles to it. Here was the usual elevated kitchen, with sitting-rooms, sleeping-rooms, and studies apart from it. A goodly number of priests, fat and lazy, surrounded me. They were encased in grey robes, and the loese tunic folded down on the elosely-shorn neck, left the front of the chest exposed to view. They were civil and polite, as the Japanese usually are, and I was much amused at their anxiety to learn something of the English language, while they added consideraby to my stock of Japanese. I do not know if celibacy is strictly enjoined on these devout men, but unless there was a convent attached, I could not account for the number of women and girls who joined us from time to time as we sat sipping our tiny cups of tea. I had a small flask of brandy with me, which their reverences thought very good; and so did some of the black-teethed dames; the hideous custom of blackening the teeth after marriage completely alters the appearance of the face, taking away every trace of beauty, I remarked that the Japanese, in sitting, do not adopt the custom of WOOLEN and COTTON GOODS, resting on the sides of their legs, when bent beneath them, like many of the Eastern na-CARPETS, CURTAINS, every kind of sitAWLS, BLONDS, &c., for those unaccustomed to it.—Voyage of the tions, but on the heels, a most painful mode
